

Dear White Crayon,

Thank you for your letter. I was shocked to see your letter. Let me fix it for you.

Firstly, can I apologize to you? I had no clue that no one could see you. What a dumb friend I am! I had a very hard think. I had an great idea! I'll wrap you in colourful paper so I could see you.

Secondly, I am feeling sad because you are feeling upused. To make it even better I'll use you to draw amazing things like clouds and a body of a unicorn. Do you think that sounds good? Is there anything else you want.

I would like to say sorry again. Please forgive me. I hope you feel seen again.

Love from:
Duncan
