

Tuesday 11th November 2025

Dear reader,

I hope this letter reaches you well!
I have some astonishing news to tell you, astronomers have found a new planet in our solar system. Can't you believe it? This discovery has gone worldwide, have you heard it?

Firstly let me tell you about the size. It is epic humongous that big? The atmosphere is quite the same as ours but more tangerine. You're thinking what is the days and nights well there's, no days but the temperature is... 100°C. My planet is called... the towers of hell. I haven't told you about the surface, well it's only land that's flat with trees, pumpkins and a town. Wait, wait, wait by the way they make a better hell than ours.

If you want you can just see for yourself.
Love

Charlie W