Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to you to inform you in a new, fascinating planet that has just been identified in our unique, special universe. It is called Nightmare and it sits between Mercury and Saturn.

To begin this letter, I am certain that you will be blown away although this planet sounds terrifying it's not that scary once you've laid eyes on it. This extraordinary planet is made up of three parts: endless mountains, uneven grass and specks of dust. Through out the land, tiny, colorful sweets are scattered all through out the slightly terrifying world. Swimming through out the multi-coloured creek, there is a few petite, bony fish and tadpoles. Isn't it amazingly scary?

Furthermore, this wonderful place only has night so there's not even a speck of light. All through the night, the sky is filled with majestic, blood-red stars that cover the night sky. Unfortunately, there's fog, wind and rain but the rain doesn't get you wet. Although, there's rain, fog and wind the temperature is never below 20°C . Intergalactically, life on Nightmare is strangely peculiar. Hopping round on the uneven dust, are large, vegetarian vampires trying to get a bite off the luscious, snow-white marshmallow trees. Flying through the night, are majestic, warty, witches collecting multi-coloured, sparkling sweets. Jangling through the night, are bony, loud skeletons drinking from the death waterfall.

There's lots more information to be identified but it's absolutely too long for one letter. If you have more questions please call the help desk on 009644 366 or check our website www.rightmarinfo.com.

Yours Sincerely,

Ernie R
