

The Swingate Squirrel

Friday 20th March 2026

Reported by A. Brown

Athena Brown Saves the Day From a Brutal Bear

Athena bravely.

Athena arrived at school and spotted that a brutal bear was wearing her teacher's clothes and black, shiny glasses. It was then that Athena became concerned for her teacher's safety. "Mrs Wilde-Hayes was unusually hairy and brown," recalled Athena.

Athena showing off her bear fur hombag.

Last Thursday, a local 8 year old girl saves her petrified teacher from a big bear during forest school.

At eight o'clock in the morning, Athena was in her rollerblades on the way to school as usual. Unexpectedly, she saw a bear stomping around the place looking very hungry. "I knew he was up to something as he had a strange grin on his face, exclaimed

What happened next, cannot be printed for upsetting our young children reading this newspaper report. On the other hand, what we can tell you is that Athena has become the great owner of a new bear fur fancy hombag and Swingate is now a bear free school for ever more. "I can't believe Athena was so brave to save me," cheered Mrs Wilde-Hayes.

Athena recieved a bravery sticker for what she had done and never wishes to go face to face with a brutal bear ever again.

Please beware of any other wild bears who may still be hungry and that have escaped from their home and if you do see one call the police.