
Dear Pink Crayon,

Thank you for your well written letter I didn't think you were exactly mad. I would like to make it up to you.

Firstly, I'm so sorry that I didn't use you very much. What a silly friend I am! I feel like a horrible person! To make you feel better I will colour you a big watercolour on the biggest piece of paper I have, so you can have a lot of colouring.

Secondly, I've had a perfect idea. I would let my sister use you more and we can colour a great big dinosaur together on the biggest paper I have. Do you think this would make you excited? Is there any other way to cheer you up?

I am so sorry again. I hope you come back home.

Love from your best freind
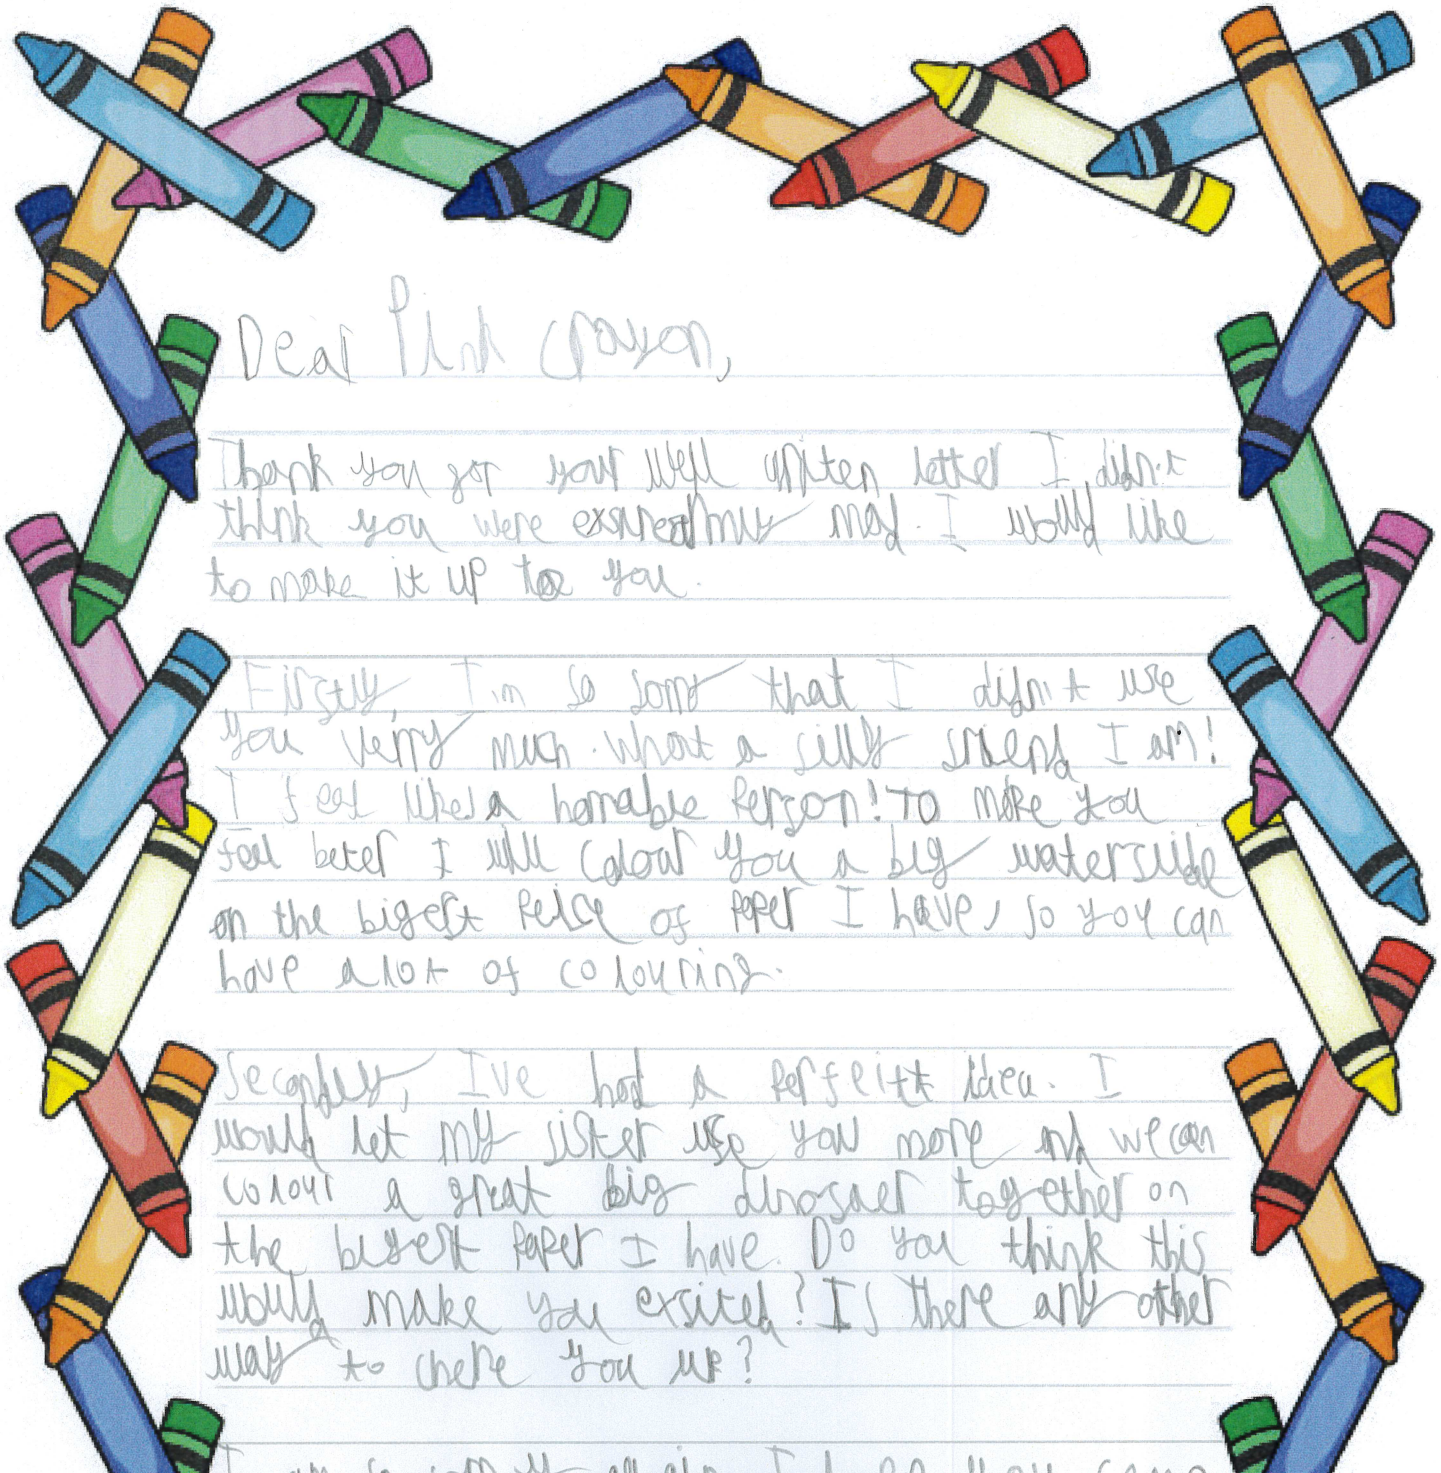
Duncan



Dear Pink crayon,

Thank you for your well written letter I didn't think you were exaggerating. I would like to make it up to you.

Firstly, I'm so sorry that I didn't use you very much. What a silly friend I am! I feel like a horrible person! To make you feel better I will colour you a big watercolour on the biggest piece of paper I have, so you can have a lot of colouring.

Secondly, I've had a perfect idea. I would let my sister use you more and we can colour a great big dinosaur together on the biggest paper I have. Do you think this would make you excited? Is there any other way to cheer you up?