

Dear White Crayon,

Thank you for your letter. I had no idea you were ~~so~~ sad.

Firstly, I'm very sorry for using you on white paper. How silly I was! I didn't realise that only using you to colour cats and snow made you so sad. I promise to colour with you on black paper in the future.

Secondly, I hope you'd like my next idea. Together, we can create a picture on black paper of the moon and stars. Does that sound like something that would make you happy?

I'd like to say sorry again for using you on white paper.

Your friend,

Duncan
