

The Only Hope

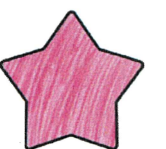

Deep in the jungle, Elsa lived in a scary, lonely world. A world where trees loomed like predators watching their prey. As she looked across the jungle, there were no families, no love and no warmth. Fear and loneliness ruled this land. It was an empty place where Elsa only had herself to survive and her only friend was herself. What a terrible place!

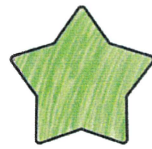

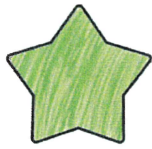

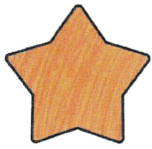

Elsa was a 12-year-old girl who loved her cat named Marie. Always, Elsa wished with all her heart for a kind, loving family to call her own. A place filled with families, love and warmth. A place where kind, caring mothers care for her children with love. With every night that past, Elsa wished to the stars like a seed hoping to grow for a lovely family.

Instantly, Elsa was sat in a tree staring at the sky and singing elegantly. Suddenly, Elsa stopped singing as she Saw a pair of sparkling wings. A tiny, magical pixie twirled down like a ballerina - on a stage. Cautiously, she slowly extended her small, shaky hands and gently scooped up the pixie. A second later, Elsa's heart started thumping as she realised the powers the pixie had.

Eventually, Elsa began to hear music from a harp playing from around the corner and orange leaves carried her down the tree and around the corner. All of a sudden, Elsa stopped and in front of her was a woman. As Elsa stopped, the elegant, gently pixie fluttered like a flower opening for the first time as the pixie landed on the ground in front of the woman, "Does this belong to you?" questioned Elsa quietly. "Once," said the woman sweetly.

In a flash, the pixie jumped up and started to glow in a arch shape as a magical rainbow appeared. Instantly, the scary, lonely jungle was gone. As the rainbow disappeared and Elsa could see families on walks and playing together. As flowers started to bloom, as colorful as gems, Elsa ran towards a house and her beloved, kind parents and sister, so she was never to be lonely. Never ever!
