

Pete the badger tidies up

Deep in the woods lived a neat, clean badger named Pete. He loved untangling the fox, polishing the rocks and bathing the birds. He helpfully swept the leaves so they do not get messy. What a neat badger he was!

One sunny day, he saw feathers, rocks, sticks and acorns all over the floor. How annoyed he was! He cleaned sadly and gathered the muddy rocks and broken acorns.

Now, he was worn out by cleaning. He walked to look for a cosy, comfy tree but everything was gone!

He was so sorry.
So he had a great idea.

The next morning, he happily rolled the juicy, red berries, he hurriedly placed the crunchy, brown leaves and even let all the birds get a bit dirty. So it looked messy again! How lovely it became again! The end!
