Sammy's Adventure

As Sammy drifted like a waterslide to a sandy, rocky beach with disgusting piles of rubbish. There sat a chair that was the exact same colour as a sunset. There was a rusty, old plastic tooth brush that was pink leaning to a plastic, chewy bottal it was white and blue at the same time for the colour. Not fair

Away from the rubbish there was an ittle, little bird with a long, sharp beak. Right behind the beach there was all tall long breezy palm trees they had nice smooth leaves and spiky bark, it feels jelly. On the beach there is a sea shell that looks like a unicorn's horn to the left side of that there is a small red starfish that was sun baking. Sammy felt the odd one out because he isn't a character. Would the rubbish be friends with him.